UNDATED (KTHV) – We've all been there.

Sometimes when you're browsing Netflix, you spend more time searching for something you want to watch than actually watching something. We all do it.

However, there are "secret" codes you can enter in the search bar to pull up a specific genre if you know what type of movie or show you want to watch, but aren't sure which exact one.

Here's the trick:

In an explainer article on Mashable (<http://mashable.com/2016/01/11/netflix-search-codes/#acepnjAVqZqw>), the instructions are simple. To search the subgenres (works best on desktop), simply type in your computer the basic url ending with the category code. For example: <http://www.netflix.com/browse/genre/1365> (<http://www.netflix.com/browse/genre/1365>) would bring up the category "Action and Adventure."

Each time you click on a genre or subgenre on Netflix.com, you'll see a code in the URL. We've listed them below in alphabetical order.
